AUGUSTUS SCHELL'S WILL.

THE BULK OF HIS ESTATE TO HIS FAMILY—BEQUESTS TO CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

Angustas Schell, by his will, filed yesterday, gives to his wife Anna Schell, $200,000 in cash or bonds, and 1,000 shares each of the capital stock of the New-York Central and Hudson River Railroad, of the Union Pacific and the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroad companies, in trust with the Union Trust Company, for a life income; also the furniture, etc., in his house No. 9 West Thirty-fourthst., and the use of that house and the house and stables at Nos. 14 and 16 West Thirty-fifth-st. The executors are authorized, with Mrs. Schelf's concent, to sell the houses and apply the proceeds to her income. Mr. Schelf had provided that in case he survived his wife, her nephew Augustus G. Fox and her nices Rebecca F. Riggs, should receive Mrs. Schelf's wearing apparel, silverware, etc.

To his brothers, Robert and Edward Schell, the testator leaves $400,000 each; to the children of his sister Emily Fellows, James W. and Richard C. Fellows, Julia Coddington and Mary Hoyt, each $100,000; to the executors, $50,000 in trust for an income for the child of his deceased nephew, Robert Fellows, during life; to Helen, the widow of his brother Richard Schell, $50,000 and a release from her indebtedness of $7,000; to Angustus Schell Hutchins, the son of Waldo Hutchins, his watch and $10,000; to his consins Jane and Gillender. Caroline Schell, William R. Schell and Abigail Baker, $5,000 each, and $5,000 each to the New-York Historical Society, the University of the City of New-York, the New-York Institution for the Blind, and the New-York Eye and Ear Infirmary. A release from all indebtedness, save as to 100 shares of the capital stock of the Bank of Memphys, is given to the testator's brother, Robert Schell, and a like provision is made for his brother are instructed to account at once to the Metropolitian Gas Light Company and fifty shares of the Oregon Short Line, and for these shares both brothers are instructed to account at once to brothers are instructed to account at once to the estate.

The residuary estate is divided into three parts. One-third goes to the children of the testator's sister. Emily Fellows; the children of his brother Edward Schell; and the child of his brother Robert, whose share is to be held by the executors until it arrives at age. A second third is left with the executors for the nes of Robert Schell during his life, to be divided at his death among his child and the children of Edward Schell and of Emily Fellows. The last third is given to the executors in trust for Edward Schell, to pass, on his death, to his brother Robert Schell and the children of Emily Fellows. The executors are Robert and Edward Schell and James W. Fellows. The will is dated March 9, 1884. A codicil of March 14, 1884, revokes the clause giving the child of Robert Fellows an interest in the residuary estate and revokes all previous gifts to the child, with the exception of the $50,000. A second codicil, dated March 18, gives 1,000 shares of New York and Harlem Railroad Company stock, to be deposited with the Union Trust Company, as an addition to the source of Mrs. Schell's income. The codicil also provides that the proceeds of the sale of the houses shall be paid to the trust company for Mrs. Schell's income.

NEW ATTRACTIONS AT BARNUM'S CIRCUS.

Those who content themselves with but one visit to the Madison Square Garden while the greatest show man has possession thereof do well if they restrain their natural longings until the last week of the season. Then it is that those features are seen which the difficulties in the way of crowding an eight hours' show into one-quarter its natural limits have hitherto kept in obscurity. By the last week, however, everything is working smoothly and without any loss of time, and it is found possible to introduce many new acts without prolonging the performance beyond the two hours assigned to it. A recognition of this fact and the exceptionally fine weather of yesterday caused the immense building to be crowded in every part, both at the afternoon and evening performances. There was no diminution perceptible in the applause given to the performers who have swung, ridden, skated or turned somersaults into public favor during the past weeks, while those who made their bows for the first time received their full share. The audience shuddered as a gayly attired personage emulated the boarding-house fly in his perilous walk upside down along the ceiling. But as there is no ceiling in the strict sense of the term in the Garden a horizontal bar reminiscent of an antique gallows served in its place.

In the Garden a horizontal bar reminiscent of an antique gallows served in its place.

The hippodrome races with all their excitement and dash remain unaltered and unabridged, and are, in fact, enlarged by the addition of a camel race. The strange, ungainly creatures with their swarthy, white-robed Nubiau riders present a picturesque appearance as they shamble around the areua at a far from insignificant rate of speed. The managers are naturally in a state of elation over the complete fiasco made by a Philadelphia showman in his endeavor to discount the revered Toung Taloung. The affidavits of the men who painted the hated rival are considered by them to have driven in the nail to its very head.

LAYING A CHURCH CORNER-STONE. LAYING A CHURCH CORNER-STONE.

The corner-stone of the new church of the St.

James Parish, 1 at Madison-ave. and Seventyfirst-st., was laid yesterday by Assistant-Bishop
Potter, assisted by the following clergymen:
C. C. Tiffany. Brady E. Backus, A. Mackay
Smith, C. T. Woodruff, C. Stander, M. L. Wooley, J. W. Shackelford, H. A. Dows, George D.
Johnson and Cornelius B. Smith, the rector of the parish. Dr. Potter, followed by the assisting tiergymen, the wardens and vestrymen of the parish, marched to the place where the corner-stone was to be laid, repeating Psalm exxii., and then folparish, marched to the place where the corner-stone was to be laid, repeating Psalm exxii, and then followed out the forms provided f.r such occasions, after which Dr. Potter made a short address, in which he praised the parish for building so fine an edifice. The corner-stone bore the inscription: "St. James Church, 1810-1869-1884," and contained among other things a list of subscribers, views of the three St. James churche on Lenox Hill, statement of the parish and corner-stone services, the seventieth anniversary serinon, a memorial sermon on the key. Dr. Conniccy, the former rector, The Thinking of yesterday and many relies from the Holy Land and Cathedrals in Scotland, Rome and Canada.

The church is to be seventy-five feet wide by one hundred feet deep, and of Gothic style of architecture. The plan includes a deep chancel, large Sunday-school room and also five other rooms. It will scat 1,000 persons and is estimated, land included, to cost $250,000. The first church of the parish was erected in 1810 at Lexington-ave, and sixty-minth-st. The congregation moved to the church now occupied by them, at Lexington-ave, and seventy-second-st. The new building, it is expected, will be completed in December.

THE SALARIES OF MR. DUNCAN'S SONS.
United States District-Attorney Root protested ast September against the allowance of the accounts of Shipping Commissioner C. C. Duncan, who has been in the habit of paying his three sons large salaries as deputies, distributing among them the recepts of the office after paying the running expenses. Judge Wallace referred the matter to Commissioner Joseph Gutman, who filed a report yesterday. The deputies were paid salaries averaging over $4,000 a year. Testimony was taken as to the salaries paid at the New-York Post Office, at the offices of the Shipping Commissioners of Phitadelphia and Boston, and in mercantile offices. William A. Booth, Ambrose Snow, William L. Lovering, William De Groot, Charles F. Elwell and others gave testimony as to the reasonableness of the salaries. The Commissioner holds that the salaries paid to the deputies were reasonable. District-Attorney Root expects to oppose the confirmation of the report on Saturday before Judge Wallace. THE NUISANCE OF TICKET SPECULATION. THE NUISANCE OF TICKET SPECULATION.

The Alderman's Committee on Law yesterday recommended that the ordinance allowing speculators to sell tickets on the pavements in front of places of amusement be repealed. While the report was being read Mr. O'Neil moved that the reading be suspended, and the motion was carried by a vote of 19 to 8, and the report was laid on the table. Mr. O'Comor then moved that the ordinance attached to the report be read. Mr. O'Neil said that he understood that Mr. O'Connor had written the report before the speculators had been heard by the committee.

Mr. Waite-That is not so. The report was written only Mr. Grant—This is not the first time that Alderman P.Seil has made assertions of this kind. I think it should be stopped.

Mr. Shells moved that the whole matter be laid on the table, and this was carried by a vote of 15

CHEAPER CAB FARES.

CHEAPER CAB FARES.

A meeting of the directors of the New-York Cheap Cab Company was held yesterday afternoon at the American Horse Exchange. There were present W. T. Vanderbilt, Frederick Bronson, William Jay, P. J. Barlow, W. D. Ryerson, Ira Brown and Fearing Gill. It was resolved to make the fare 25 cents a mile for either the two or four-scated cabs for two passengers. Every passenger in each cab will be given a card containing the number of the vehicle. the rates of fares and a table of distances. The Excentive Committee was directed to investigate the initations of the company's cabs, and to take action to punish any infringement on the trade mark. The cabs of the Cheap Cab Company may be distinguished by the crest, which is the feathers of the Prince of Wales inclosed in a ring bearing the name of the company.

He was told that his turn would come at the next meeting. After the usual amount of business yesterday the call of general orders eams up. When the two orders which Mr. Duffy.

of the XXIIId District, was entitled to call up had been disposed of, a motion was made to adjourn. Thereupon Mr. Fullgraff became furious. He declared that he was a man and wanted to be treated as such; he was tired of this boys' play. If he could not have his rights, he asserted, he proposed to resign. He was finally mollified and allowed to call up in succession four general orders, which were approved unanimously.

ANOTHER ROLLER SKATING CARNIVAL.

The success of the roller skating carnival at the Olympian Skating Rink some weeks ago was great enough to warrant a repetition of the experiment by the managers. They therefore amounce that the second grand carnival will take place to-night, and an attractive programme is promised. There will be exhibitions of fancy skating by Myer, Miss Jessie Houghton and Miss Jessie Lafon, while H. W. Tufts, of the Kings County Wheelmen, will give an exhibition of bicycle riding. Roller skating seems to have received an impetus of late which bids fair to restore it to the place among popular sports held by it some years ago. Of late years Boston and the Eastern states have been its chosen home and New-York has been without a permanent rink. As the attendance at the Olympian Rink is said to average about 75,000 persons a week there seems to be no reason why it should not become a permanent institution. Every endeavor is made to keep the place orderly, and on one night in the week a double rate of admission is charged, which, it is houed, will attract a better class of visitors on that night. STEAMSHIP RUMORS UNCONFIRMED.

STEAMSHIP RUMORS UNCONFIRMED.

Considerable anxiety still prevails among the agents of the European steamship lines with regard to the settlement of the difficulties which have arisen in the North Atlantic Conference in Liverpool. The lines which belong to the Conference are the Guion, White Star, Cunard, Inman, National, Anchor, and State. Rumors were circulated last week that the Conference had dissolved, but the only foundation for these was a private dispatch from Liverpool that it was impossible to settle the differences. Inquiries among the several agents yesterday failed to confirm the rumors, and it was stated that if there was any truth in them. Thomas S. Sandford, secretary of the conference, would be officially informed. Mr. Sandford said that he had received no official dispatches in relation to the troubles. tion to the troubles.

Rugg, indicted for the murder of the Maybee women, was arraigned at a special term of the Supreme Court in Long Island City yesterday. The court room was crowded. When asked to plead to the indictment, Rugg's counsel said that he declined to plead. His counsel then sought to have the indictment quashed. The motion was demed, and the case was set down for this morning. An extra panel of 150 jurors has been ordered. Isaac Dickinson, a horse trainer, has rented the Maybee place at Brookville. A benefit ball for Selah Sprague, who was assaulted by Rugg, was held at the Mechanics and Farmers Hali at Hicksville last evening. There was a large attendance. tendance.

STRANDED OFF BAHIA, BRAZIL-THE PASENGERS AND CREW SAVED.

Paul F. Gerhard & Co., agents of the United States and Brazil Steamship Company, yesterday received a cable dispatch stating that the steamship Reliance, of that line, had stranded off Bahla, and that the passengers, crew and mails had been safely taken ashore. No information was given recarding the extant of the dimage to the vessel, but it was inferred that she would become a total wreck, as she stranded on the rocks where the steamer Germanic was wrecked a few years ago. The Reliance satied from Rio Jappino on April 3, with mails and passengers and about 7,000 bags of coffee. She arrived at Bahla on Saturday morning, and after taking in a few hides safed from there ou Saturday night. She was one of three vessels—the Reliance, Advance and Finance—with were built last year for this line. The Finance was the pioneer vessel, salling from this port on January 29, and was followed in Feormary by the Advance, and in March by the Reliance. The latter vessel was launched at the shipbuilding yard of John Roach & Sons, by whom she was built, at Chester, Penn., on February 24. She was an iron vessel built with five water-tight compartments, and having all the latest improvements. She was 315 feet in lengts, thirty-eight and one-third feet beam, twenty-three and one-third feet in depth of hold, and had a gress measurement of 2,604 tens. In addition to carco holds, she was provided with excellent accommodations for 100 saloun passengers and 300 steerage passengers. The vessel was valued at about $350,000 and was fully insured. She was commanded by Capitain George F. Cappenter, who is considered one of the bean model, the same materials and the same style as the Reliance.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

THEY THOUGHT THEIR TIPLE WAS GOOD.

A number of property owners along the shore of the bay are agitated over an alleged discovery that their property is subject to a mortgaze of which they had no knowledge. They purchased their lands from the Central New-Jersey Land Improvement Company, which was organized in 1871 and to which the Central Railroad Company of New-Jersey transferred large tracks of its surplus real estate along the shore. The Improvement Company sold many lots of land, and nearly all the purchasers paid cash. It is now said that all this property is subject to a mortgage of $5,000,000 made by the railroad company before the land was transferred to the Improvement Company. The counsel for the Improvement Company says that the mortgage is only upon lands used for railroad purposes, but the mortgage itself states that it is upon the property used for railroad purposes, but the mortgage itself states that it is upon "all other property of the company." An effort is being made to devise a plan to have the courts pass pass upon the question. THEY THOUGHT THEIR TIFLE WAS GOOD.

A CHURCH FIGHT OVER BURYING NEGROES There have been for a long time a number of colored people among the members of the old Tenent Presbyterian Church, which stands on the historic ground of Monmouth battlefield, about three miles from Freehold. The colored brethren think that they should have the privilege of burial in the churchyard. One of their number, a woman who had long been a faithful worker in the church, died recently. The Rev. Mr. Smith, the postor, had the body buried in the churchyard. In the night after the funeral some persons unknown built around the lot in which the woman had been buried a fence ten feet high. The next night it was entirely torn down. The pastor will not yield and the people are obstinate. Smith announces that as soon as he can locate elsewhere he will leave them. There have been for a long time a number of JERSEY CITY. The trial of Dr. Rufus W. Peacock and John D. Harrington for defrauding the American Legion of Honor will begin to-day.

The city's revenue last week from taxes was $12,990 80, and from water rents $2,073 25. Matthew Farrell was arraigned tyesterday on a chrrge of assault and battery on John Ogden. In a quarrel Farrell stabbed Ogden in the head with a knife, but he refused to make any complaint and Farrell was discharged.
